Linnea Elevate - is a bench desking system comprising of various components which can be arranged and combined in different configurations and lengths to suit almost every office layout.

Linnea Elevate is all about inclusivity. Height adjustable positions fit seamlessly into the system in any location with minimal visual differentiation, thus wheelchair users or workers who need to adjust the height of their work surface do not have to sit at a special or different workstation, but can be easily incorporated without discrimination into the team.

Linnea Elevate height adjustable positions maintain the ability to share legs and other components making height adjustability a real and affordable option. Commercially viable, aesthetically pleasing, Linnea Elevate is designed in such a way to cater for individual ergonomics.
